January 8, 2011
AAII Study came out today– it now covers 13 years from January 1998 through December 31, 2010 and CAN SLIM maintains its #1 position in the growth category.

CAN SLIM continues to be the number one in the Growth category, and shows ever-increasing long-term consistency.   It's not suggested that you send the entire study to anyone, given it could create confusion – and even diversions away from CAN SLIM.  The study primarily shows us that CAN SLIM remains the top perform-ing growth strategy in this independent, real-time study of over 50 top investing strategies.

Overall Study shows the top four strategies:

Value Investor O'Shaughnessy's Tiny Titans was #1 overall in this study: +2666.8%
Second was Piotroski +2606.5%  - Value Investor
CAN SLIM is third overall
Fourth is Magnet Simple  +1751.9% - Growth & Value Investing

A sampling of other performance:
Lynch  +645.2%
Buffett Hagstrom +485.1%
Templeton +208.5%

Privacy Statement

This Statement was last updated February 10, 2010.

DAI maintains the following Privacy Statement to protect the personal information you provide online. We will not sell your personal information to anyone, for any reason, at any time.

Collection and Use of Information

DAI will only collect your personal information (such as your name, address, telephone number, or e-mail address) if you provide it voluntarily. If you do not want this information to be collected by us, please do not submit it. DAI will not retain your personal information longer than is necessary for the purpose for which it is collected or as required by applicable laws or regulations.

In addition, in the course of using our site we automatically track certain information about you. This information includes but is not limited to the URL that you just came from (whether this URL is on our site or not), which URL you go to next (whether this URL is on our site or not), what browser you are using, if you are a new or returning visitor, and your IP address. Many sites automatically collect this information.

We may employ other companies and individuals to perform functions on our behalf. Our employees, agents and contractors who have access to personally identifiable information are required to protect the information in a manner that is consistent with this Privacy Statement.

We also employ the use of cookies to assist us in this process. A cookie is a small piece of computer code that enables web servers to identify users. Cookies do not store any information that you have provided to our site. They are simply identifiers. You have the ability to delete cookie files from your hard drive at any time or avoid cookies by configuring your browser to reject them or to notify you when a cookie is being placed on your hard drive.

We may provide access to your personally identifiable information when legally required to do so, to cooperate with police investigations or other legal proceedings, to protect against misuse or unauthorized use of our Web site, to limit our legal liability and protect our rights, or to protect the rights and safety of visitors to this Web site or the public. In those instances, the information is provided only for that limited purpose.

We only use the information which is provided through our site to help us improve our services to you, to provide you with the products you have requested, to inform you about additional products or services that may be of interest to you, for marketing purposes and for other internal purposes.

At any time, while accessing our site, any user, while online, may decline participation in any activity that asks for information (i.e. survey email, or ecommerce). Your choice not to participate will in no way affect your ability to use any other feature on our site.

Security

We take reasonable steps to maintain the security of the personally identifiable information that we collect, including limiting the number of people who have physical access to our database servers, as well as installing electronic security systems that guard against unauthorized access. However, no data transmission over the Internet can be guaranteed to be completely secure. Accordingly, we cannot ensure or warrant the security of any information that you transmit to us, so you do so at your own risk and DAI has no responsibility or liability for the security of information transmitted via the Internet.

Our Founder

William J. O'Neil began his career as a stockbroker in 1958 with Hayden, Stone & Company. During this period he tirelessly researched past and present market trends and developed his renowned investment philosophy—a philosophy which garnered him a 20-fold increase in 26 months in his personal account. In 1963, he founded the investment management and brokerage firm William O'Neil + Company. A year later, he purchased a seat on the NYSE at age 30, one of the youngest individuals ever to do so.

Mr. O'Neil pioneered the use of computerized databases for equities research and developed the use of historical precedent to analyze equities. Today William O'Neil + Co. employs over 50 data research analysts with advanced educations, training and diverse professional backgrounds to rigorously maintain the breadth and quality of The O'Neil Database®. Revered as one of the most accurate and objective databases in the industry, The O'Neil Database drives all of the products created by Mr. O'Neil and his development teams for both institutional and individual investors.

In 1984, Bill O'Neil launched the weekday publication Investor's Business Daily® in an effort to address the need for better investment information for all types of investors. In addition to publishing his popular newspaper, Bill O'Neil has also authored a number of best-selling books including The Successful Investor, 24 Essential Lessons for Investment Success, and How to Make Money in Stocks, now in its 4th Edition.

Mr. O'Neil continues to conduct lectures across the country to sold-out audiences educating institutional and individual investors on his strategies for identifying winning stocks and minimizing losses.
Our Company

Through his experiences with investor education, Mr. O'Neil realized the need to provide the non-professional sector of investors with quality investment tools similar to the ones employed by institutional investors. In 1972 Mr. O'Neil launched Daily Graphs as a series of printed products with the mission of offering premium investing charting to its subscribers. With the advance of personal computing and the internet, Daily Graphs Online was launched in 1998 and became an industry standard for high quality, dependable equity research.

Mr. O'Neil's desire and passion for educating investors was passed on to his son, W. Scott O'Neil. Scott O'Neil, a successful portfolio manager and former publisher of Investors Business Daily®, has embraced investor education as a keynote speaker at conferences and IBD workshops throughout the United States. Scott worked closely with the development team to evolve Daily Graphs Online into MarketSmith—a completely integrated equity research tool. Through MarketSmith, the O'Neil's feel they have leveraged 50 years of successful investing experience to help equity investors streamline their research and take control of their investments to protect and grow their assets.

MarketSmith is a powerful stock research tool that uses institutional quality data for charting, screening, and watch list management. It delivers an intuitive, comprehensive design that integrates the most relevant fundamental and technical information with proven proprietary ratings and rankings necessary to identify potential winning stocks. MarketSmith was developed with Microsoft Silverlight, offering a one-click installation of the plug-in while providing a rich user interface with powerful data integration capabilities. MarketSmith runs on both the Apple Mac OS X and Microsoft Windows PC platforms.

MarketSmith reduces the amount of time an investor spends looking for potential opportunities. It allows them to generate better investing ideas quickly and more efficiently so they can become a more skilled and successful investor—a MarketSmith.

Data Analysis Incorporated Information Systems Security Policy

Purpose and scope
The purpose of this policy is to establish security standards regarding the use of any computer equipment that is operated on the DAI corporate network. It should be noted that these guidelines apply to all computer network devices connected to the DAI corporate network as well as those operating within the corporate premises on a separate computer network of any type.

The following guidelines may be amended or supplemented as corporate computer security needs change.

DAI Network Security Committee
The DAI Network Security Committee (DAI NSC) consists of the following representatives: Randy Bramstedt, Suresh Rajagopalan, Greg Crozier, Dan Green, Ivor Levene, Chad Bair, Terry Chan,  Rajneesh Gupta, and Karen Anderson.

Administrative contact information
All internal servers operating within the DAI corporate network must have an administrative group that is responsible for its operation. Point of contact information will be maintained by the network support staff. Approved server configuration guidelines, as set forth in this document, must be established and maintained by the administrative group and is subject to review by the DAI NSC.  The administrative group is responsible for monitoring configuration compliance and consulting with the DAI NSC on any exception.

The following point of contact information will be maintained:

• primary and backup administrative contact information
• server hardware and operating system version
• server location
• primary function including application programs
• authorized maintenance window

General guidelines
The guidelines here apply to both servers and workstations unless specified otherwise. It is important to note that unconnected networks operating on the corporate premises, including development labs, are subject to these provisions. The existence of any parallel or separate on-site network should be brought to the attention of the DAI NSC and is generally prohibited.

• All Windows servers must be registered within the corporate Active Directory.  Membership in non-DAI domains or Microsoft network "workgroups" is specifically prohibited.
Any exceptions must be approved by the DAI NSC.

• Virus software and anti-spyware software must be installed and operational on all Windows computers using the enterprise standard McAfee and Adware configurations established by the DAI Network Support department.

Dress Policy

Professional/Business Casual Attire will be observed Monday through Thursday, while Casual Day is an option only on Fridays. The purpose of this policy is to translate the organizational values of appropriate office/business attire to those associates who work in our office environment. It is important that our associates project a professional image at all times while at work. This policy is not intended to discourage associates from dressing according to professional business attire standards.

Professional/Business Casual

Men
• Suits, jackets, blazers and sport coats
• Dress slacks, dockers and chinos
• Dress shirts, polo or golf shirts
• Ties
• Cardigans, vests, sweaters and turtlenecks
• Leather or suede dress shoes, loafers, and non-casual footwear (i.e. Oxford, Rock ports and Dockers)

Women
• Suits (pants or skirts) dress slacks and chinos
• Jackets and blazers
• Dresses and skirts that are mid length (not to exceed 4 inches above knee)
• Dress blouses, sleeveless blouses, knit tops and sweaters
• Hosiery is preferred when wearing dresses/skirts
• Pumps, sling backs, flats, boots and open-toe dress shoes that are fastened and secured to feet.

Professional Business Attire is required when meeting with customers and vendors in or outside of the office.
Management reserves the right to designate Professional Business Attire every day of the week.

Footwear

• Athletic shoes and sneakers
• Platforms, clogs, casual sandals, slides, mules, ugg boots and hiking boots
• Flip flops, slippers and thongs or casual shoes of any kind.
(Exception: Valid medical reason- notification to Human Resources required.)

Personal Hygiene
Maintaining well-kept hair, good personal hygiene, and general neat grooming is expected. Cologne and perfume should not be used in excess.

Facial Hair
Facial hair must be trimmed and shaped, or clean shaven.
